

General Meeting

Welcome Back!!

1-07-2020

Animal of the Week: Cuttlefish (order Sepiida)

- Cuttlefish are a short lived (1-2 years) mollusc, considered to be one of the most intelligent invertebrates.
- Despite being colorblind, cuttlefish can change their skin to almost any color, and can also mimic textures. These skills can be used for camouflage or communication.
- Some “sneaker” males disguise themselves as females to avoid dominant males and gain access to their females.
