

Whale hello there friends, today we learned about the brown throated sloth (as it is national sloth day). Brown throated sloths have fur that hangs upside down to allow rainwater to flow from their bodies when upside down. They can also turn their heads up to 300 degrees. Imagine the people watching you could do with that head range!

We watched the Our Plant docuseries episode on coastal seas and enjoyed the beautiful views, interesting facts, and soothing voice of David Attenborough. If you missed the meeting you should definitely watch this wonderful episode and if you don't have netflix, you can kindly ask the E-board to reenact it for you.

Join AZA it's a great resume builder and a fantastic way to keep up with what is happening in the zoo world.

Make sure to pay your dues if you haven't already. Dues are 20$ per semester or 30$ for the year and money can be sent to the ZSA venmo @MSUZSA.

We have a fundraising opportunity. Turn in cans and bottles and send the money to our venmo. The proceeds will go to the Dian Fossey Gorilla Fund International. Whoever collects the most cans and bottles will win a prize.

See you next week,

ZSA E-Board
