

Gobble gobble mothercluckers,

today we learned some facts about the tasty turkey and all about inverts from our guest speaker Darren. Turkey can fly 55 meters in short distances and they sleep in trees. The E-Board gives the turkey a 7/10, they are beefy creatures and they have the advantage in the trees but we have sticks and aggression on our side.

Darren came to talk to us tonight about inverts and the importance of them. He gave us a lot of cool info on bees and convinced ZSA to start training a bee army asap. If you missed this interesting presentation do not panic, we have the zoom recording attached above. If you have Darren questions about bees, inverts, or grad school feel free to contact him @incorva1@msu.edu.

Our can and bottle drive fundraiser is still going on! The proceeds will go to the Dian fossey gorilla fund international to help conserve and protect gorillas.

Annica's joke corner:

Have a happy and safe thanksgiving!

Love,

Your ZSA E-Board
