

what's popping (hopefully not fungus out of your head...if you know you know),

Today we returned to the sweet soothing voice of David Attenborough as he tells us the world is ending. During this meeting we watched the jungles episode with some lovely commentary from our ZSA members. Head to netflix if you want to watch the website. Kidnap the ZSA club if you want the commentary.

Our animal of the week was the bush dog. They're great swimmers thanks to their webbed feet (we see you Michael Phelps). They are also the only species in their genus and were thought to be extinct at one point. On the fight scale we give the bush dog a 7/10 they are not often seen in the wild so they have surprise on their side also they are so cute so we probably wouldn't be able to get ourselves to fight it.

Dollar Dollar Bills y'all! if you didn't pay your dues for the year it is time to pay your dues for the semester. Dues for the semester are 20$ and you can venmo us at MSUZSA. Once you pay your dues you will have your active member status.
