

Hi Friends,

you volcaKNOW (snail) this was a very informative meeting about habits that can help habitats brought to you by our one and only Annica. For those that weren't able to make it here's a quick overview in the form of a choose your own adventure (yes you can view the power point here:

https://docs.google.com/presentation/d/1DsM2NuJeMPuuQ6v6KaXzVlfzWAp4TZPCUR_H8NNdHrs/edit?usp=sharing) but this is more fun:

https://docs.google.com/forms/d/1_JVRLbzPyBjZ-LjLrm9xntotroQb59EKIn0lfXyFa6E/edit

The volcano snail was our animal of the day and they are real funky because they are only found in the deep-sea hydrothermal vents in the Indian ocean. We give the volcano snail two different scores if we were fighting it in the hydrothermal vents: 10/10 because we would die due to pressure and heat unless we had some magic school technology. But... if the volcano snail was in East Lansing Michigan we give it a -1/10 because it would not vibe with the environment we wouldn't even have to do anything to kill it.

it's almost hot girl summer and as we all know every hot girl summer consists of building up your resume. Check out the FW job board, IBIO Hands-on database, and join AZA.

Our fundraiser is happening TOMORROW at pizza house 5-9 pm. This can be done for take out, delivery, and dine-in. Make sure to mention ZSA or show the flyer when you're ordering.

Have a great week ZSA friends,

Love ZSA E-Board