

Hello ZSA members,

Today will be a quick and dirty meeting minutes for y'all. Today we practiced our braiding skills and made dog toys for the local humane societies.

Our animal of the week was the Bengal tiger partially for the year of the tiger and partially because the Bengals have made it to the super bowl. Some fun facts about the Bengal tiger are that they are a subspecies of the tiger and they have the largest canine teeth of any living cat (4 in). We give the Bengal tiger a 10/10 as they could easily kill us in so many ways.

We will be ordering the Spartan "S" shirts next week so if you have yet to order one and you want one please fill out your info here: t-shirt form

If you are looking for summer internships check out the IBIO hands on database!

That's all folks!

Stay safe with all this snow we're about to get.

Love,

Your ZSA E-Board
