
General Meeting

4/5/22

Animal of the Week: Emu (Dromaius novaehollandiae)

- Second largest living bird by height
 - Largest native Australian bird
- Its major mode of defense are the claws on its feet, which can inflict wounds by kicking
- They swallow stones to aid in digestion of plant material
- Inquisitive birds; will follow humans

Opportunities in Zoology!

- Join AZA!
 - Resume builder
 - Keep up with all the recent news in the zoo world
 - Job postings
 - Connect with zoos all over the world
 - Get the Connect Magazine
- IBIO Hands on database!
 - Now is the time to look for summer internships!

Potter Park Zoo Trip!

- We will be going to Potter Park Zoo April 23!
- Please fill out this form to RSVP and get/give rides, and pick a time that works best for everyone

Eboard Elections!

- Elections will be April 19
- If you are interested in running for eboard, please prepare a 1-2 minute casual speech about why you want to be on eboard
- Open positions are: treasurer, service coordinator, fundraising coordinator, social coordinator, and webmaster

ZSA Seniors

- Please let Christina or email msuzsa@gmail.com to let us know if you are graduating
 - You will get a pin from us :)
-

Penguin T-shirts are in!

- Please see us after the meeting if you ordered one; they are $15

Check Out Our Social Media!

- Facebook: MSU Zoological Students Association
 - Website: www.msuzsa.weebly.com
 - Twitter: @MSUZSA
 - Snapchat: @msu_zsa
 - Instagram: msu_zsa or MSU ZSA
 - Venmo: MSU ZSA
-

Tonight: Sydney Scovill

