

Hey folks,

Today we learned about the Long Tailed Chinchilla and played a kahoot with some super fun animal trivia. Who knew Steve Irwin was afraid of Parrots? I didn't.

Chinchilla's They have the densest fur of all land mammals and because of this they take dust baths instead of water baths. They are considered endangered due to the pet trade and being hunted for their fur. They are also one of the longest living rodents. They can live up to 20 years in captivity and 10 in the wild. when they are threatened they release clumps of fur. if you want something to brighten your day here is a video of a Chinchilla getting a dust bath:
