

GENERAL MEETING

9-28-21

ANIMAL OF THE WEEK: MACARONI PENGUIN (EUDYPTES CHRYSOLOPHUS)

- They have the largest and densest breeding colonies of all penguins (at 100,000 individuals)
- Despite being the most numerous penguins species (with 18 million individuals), they are classified as vulnerable
- Colonies suffer low rates of predation; predators only take eggs and chicks if unattended, and adults are preyed upon in the water.
